The Brown Decision Ended Legal Segregation in Our Schools...
 But How Far Have We Really Come?

“Today, education is perhaps the most important function of state and local governments...It is the very foundation of good citizenship. Today it is a principal instrument in awakening the child to cultural values, in preparing him for later professional training, and in helping him to adjust normally to his environment. In these days, it is doubtful that any child may reasonably be expected to succeed in life if he is denied the opportunity of an education...a right which must be made available to all on equal terms.”

– U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren, Brown v. Board of Education Decision, May 17, 1954
